Readings and performance on Sundays

Words evoke images, images evoke words. Words made Flesh.

We invite creatives to submit work, in a range of mediums, inspired by word.

We aim to make connections between the artist and the poet,

The concept and the symbol

Visual Art

Visual artists may submit work inspired by words of their own composition or by a favourite writer. It may be a collaboration with a poet or writer.

Writers may submit work that can be "put on the wall" as a visual art piece. We can help to connect visual artists with poets and writers to collaborate.

Performance

We are seeking people to give readings and performance of the written word in the visual art space bringing a creative energy to the Mill

Poetry and play readings or Accapella are some of the ideas we have but we are open to ideas....
